

SEARCH COUNTRY IN VICINITY OF COLONY FOR MISSING WOMAN

Feeble-Minded Woman of Slight Build Missing Since Friday

Several posses of attendants and patients at the Dixon state hospital were scouring the country surrounding the institution today in an effort to locate Miss Josephine Bratfield, aged 40, a feeble minded patient who has been missing since 8 o'clock Friday evening when a check of her ward was made by the attendants and a report was made to Dr. Warren G. Murray at once.

Attendants were sent out in parties searching about the institution grounds and continued their search until an early hour this morning, but found no trace of the missing woman. Other parties were organized early this morning and sent out, many being mounted and some in automobiles. Dr. Murray ordered a search of the tunnel system this morning, but at noon no trace of the woman had been found.

Is of Slight Build. Miss Bratfield is described as being of slight build, weighing 120 pounds. She was transferred from the Elgin state hospital for insane to Dixon a few weeks ago, and is said to have threatened several times to leave the local institution. She is believed to have left the ward about supper time last evening and is thought to be hiding in property adjoining the institution. Officials at the hospital today said that she wore a light dress and no hat and would easily be recognized as feeble-minded, her history showing that she suffered from delusions and imagined she heard voices. Any information which will lead to her detention should be communicated to Dr. Warren G. Murray, superintendent of the institution, as early as possible.

AFFIDAVITS OF EVOLUTIONISTS BEING PREPARED

Will Be Made Part of Record of Dayton Case in Appeal

Dayton, Tenn., July 18—(AP)—Expert scientific witnesses have been barred from testifying for the defense in the Scopes evolution trial, but affidavits outlining their views on the question at issue will be entered in the court record on Monday, when the hearing is to be resumed.

The court was recessed over Saturday to give the defense an opportunity to prepare the affidavits. Primarily they will show in detail the theory of evolution in an endeavor to conform it to the story of creation as recorded in the Bible.

Shorn of all hope of producing their science witnesses in court to testify for the stand, defense attorneys, after the ruling of Judge Raulston yesterday, resorted to this method of having their testimony placed on record for the information of the presiding judge and to reveal to the appellate court the nature of the evidence they would have submitted.

Permission to do this was granted by Judge Raulston after his ruling that such evidence was not relevant. Exceptions by defense counsel followed, after which it was agreed that the statements should be prepared and admitted to the record.

The ruling of Judge Raulston barring expert testimony brought general sorrow to the concession men. Their earnest desire was that the trial might have been prolonged until they could "break even," as they expressed it.

The town had prepared to entertain thousands, and the crowds came by hundreds.

Hearing on Petition of S. D. & E. May Be Delayed

There is some likelihood that the Illinois Commerce commission's action on the petition of the Sterling, Dixon & Eastern Electric railway company for permission to dissolve and quit business may be delayed on account of the Illinois Supreme court's ruling in the June term that in matters of rate fixing, extension and improvement of service the hearing must be held in the county or in one of the counties in which the property affected lies. This decision of the court may slow up the work of the commission greatly, as most of the sessions have hitherto been held in Chicago and Springfield.

Leland Given Verdict for $10,000 by Jurors

Chicago, July 18—(AP)—Damages of $10,000 were awarded by a jury last night to Albert R. Leland who asked for $50,000 in a slander suit against E. L. Hartig, trustee of the Oak Park church to which Leland formerly belonged.

The suit was an aftermath of a divorce action brought by Leland in which the Rev. Carl D. Case, pastor of the church, was accused of misconduct by Leland's wife, Charlotte.

ASK COURT TO CALL WITNESS IN LOONEY CASE

State Springs a Surprise During the Morning Session.

Rock Island, Ill., July 18—(AP)—The state sprung a surprise on the defense in the vice conspiracy trial of John P. Looney in Rock Island County circuit court this morning when the prosecution asked Judge N. A. Larson to call Louis Ortell, Looney's henchman and collector of tribute for protection in illicit traffic, as a court witness, since the state did not wish to vouch for Ortell's integrity.

State Senator James J. Barbour, siding in the prosecution of the disbarred underworld lawyer, made the move for Ortell to be called as a court witness. While Ortell had been summoned as a state witness, Barbour said the prosecution did not want to be bound by what testimony Ortell might offer. "The state does not wish to vouch for Ortell's integrity," Barbour declared.

Attorney I. R. Wasson, of Peoria, who joined Looney's forces yesterday, objected, stating that Ortell could be called as a court witness only where he was an eye witness to a transaction. "It is elementary," the new counsel for the defendant declared in opposing the state's strategy.

The court will have to be instructed in the elementaries," Judge Larson said in instructing Wasson to cite authorities for his contention. Court was recessed until this afternoon, when the question will be argued further.

JAIL POLO MAN AFTER CRASH ON FORRESTON ROAD

Roy Riggs Given Six Months at Labor for Accident

Oregon—Roy Riggs, 38, Polo, was sentenced to six months' hard labor at Vandallia in Judge Leon Zick's court Thursday on charges of operating a car while under the influence of liquor and transporting liquor unlawfully.

Riggs' arrest followed a crash on Route 26 north of Forreston, Wednesday night when his car rammed a buggy driven by Henry Veltmeyer of Forreston, completely wrecking the vehicle and injuring the driver. After the crash, Riggs' machine careened into a ditch. Riggs was said to be in such an intoxicated condition that he could scarcely move away from his wrecked machine.

When arrested by Sheriff Sheridan N. Dodson, he had a quart of liquor in his possession.

State's Attorney Martin V. Peterson, Rochelle, conducted the prosecution at Thursday's hearing.

Rock Falls Man Fined for Possessing Liquor

Paul Buck of Rock Falls was arrested by members of the police department last night on Madison avenue and First street in an intoxicated condition and also with several bottles of alcohol in his car. This morning he pleaded guilty to a charge of possessing intoxicating liquor when arraigned before Justice J. O. Shaub in police court, and was fined $100 and costs.

FORM PLANS TO AVERT STRIKE IN COAL MINES

Administration Making Arrangements for Eventualities.

Swampscott, Mass., July 18—(AP)—Having discussed with Secretary Davis the possibility of a tieup in the anthracite coal industry, due to a dead lock over a new wage scale, President Coolidge went ahead with plans for contingencies here with other cabinet officials.

While no definite arrangements have yet been made, it is regarded as certain that Secretary Hoover will be summoned to White Court if the anthracite situation becomes more threatening. Secretary Davis has called for Europe and will be out of the country until late in August. Before leaving he said he thought the operators and miners would come to an agreement before Sept. 1.

In addition to conferring with the Commerce secretary, in the event a suspension of operations in the anthracite field appears imminent, President Coolidge also is expected to consult with John Hays Hammond, head of the Federal Coal Commission; Geo. Otis Smith, director of the Geological Survey, and members of house and senate committees having jurisdiction over legislation affecting the industry.

HEAD AMERICAN CANCER SOCIETY GOES TO EUROPE

To Investigate Recent Discoveries of Two British Savants

New York, July 18—(AP)—While warnings against hope of immediate cure for cancer continue to be made by New York authorities, Dr. George A. Soper, managing director of the American Society for the Control of Cancer, is going to London to investigate the observation of cancer virus by two British experts.

Dr. Soper's chief, Dr. Francis Carter Wood, acting president of the society, compares the Gye-Barnard discoveries in England with the Einstein theory of relativity.

"It will take ten years at least to prove or disprove the conclusions of the British scientists," said Dr. Wood, "just as it will take years to prove or disprove the Einstein theory."

In cautioning the public not to attach undue importance to the work of the British scientists, Dr. Soper said:

"The most significant fact established experimentally by the British researchers is that a micro organism in combination with a distinctive liquid extract of a tumor is necessary and sufficient for the production of that type of tumor in other animals."

"I am going to Europe because the society is eager to obtain first hand knowledge of every useful fact that can be turned to account in the prevention and cure of this scourge."

Commandments Revised, Meet Modern Living?

The commission's report said the changes were made "to meet modern conditions."

The new rendition of the Mosaic law is:

"1—Thou shalt have none other Gods but me.

"2—Thou shalt not make to thyself any graven image, nor the likeness of anything that is in Heaven above, or in the earth beneath, nor that which is in the water under the earth; thou shalt not bow down to them, nor worship them.

"3—Thou shalt not take the name of the Lord, thy God in vain.

"4—Remember that thou keep holy the sabbath day.

"5—Honour thy father and thy mother.

"6—Thou shalt do no murder.

"7—Thou shalt not commit adultery.

"8—Thou shalt not steal.

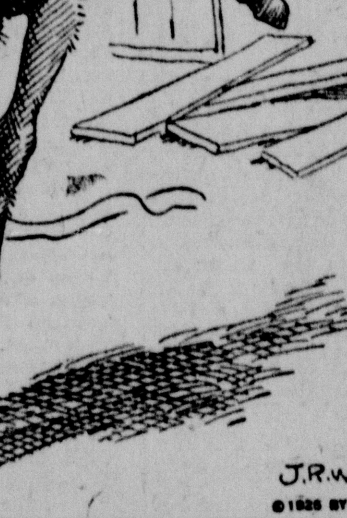

"9—Thou shalt not bear false witness against thy neighbor.

"10—Thou shalt not covet."

Shots From Sheriff's Gun Stop Two Drunks

It required several volleys from deputies' revolvers to convince Art Hanson of Amboy that orders of Sheriff E. C. Risley were to be obeyed this afternoon about 1:45, when the Amboy man refused to stop his Ford car on the route 2 paving about four miles south of Dixon. The sheriff had been notified that two men in an intoxicated condition were creating a disturbance in the east end of the city and had left going south on route two.

The sheriff and two deputies went out in pursuit and overtook Hanson and George M. Snyder of Amboy about a mile south of the Northwest corner cut off. Driving alongside the Amboy car, Sheriff Risley ordered Hanson to stop, but instead that individual drove to the St. James church and then turned west, driving at a high rate of speed. Again the sheriff's car drove alongside and this time Hanson was persuaded to stop after holes had been shot in his tires. Both men were brought to Dixon and locked in the county jail.

UNCLE SAM HAS STARTED DRIVE ON HOOCH GANG

Intensive Campaign to Stop Smuggling is Given Impetus

New York, July 18—(AP)—Uncle Sam has started an intensive mid-summer drive against rum, and the liquor forces are making several counter moves. In today's news there figured on the side of prohibition enforcement.

One—Eight arrests in New York as the result of heavy shipment of liquor to inland points in trucks.

Two—Tour of Assistant Secretary of the Treasury Andrews to Canadian border points to repair leaks in the roof.

Three—Reports of warnings to Canadian rum runners that they will be fired upon in American waters on the Great Lakes.

Four—Completion of formalities on a treaty between the United States and Canada regarding smuggling.

Five—Impending shakeup under which all prohibition agents will lose their jobs and many will be hired over again.

In behalf of the wets there developed these moves:

One—Reappearance of a hum fleet off the north shore of Massachusetts.

Two—Efforts to hold up salary of Prohibition Commissioner Haynes because of his employment of a woman lecturer on prohibition.

A sales organization that retailed liquor at the rate of 30 trunkfuls a day to 20,000 customers throughout the country has been smashed in New York. One woman and seven men comprising the head office force were arrested yesterday.

Keys Sent by Mail Customers on receiving a liquor consignment, forwarded payment here. Keys were then mailed to open the trunks. The customers shipped the trunks back here. A field force of forty men worked the midwest. Federal prohibition officers late yesterday raided the suites of offices here.

Mr. Andrews, determined to check the flow of liquor at its source, is traveling through Vermont on way to the Canadian border. There he will confer with his field men regarding the flow of contraband liquor over the international boundary. It is expected that he will be aided in this work by the ratification yesterday of four treaties between the United States and Canada, one of which deals with smuggling.

Tells of Shake Up Visiting New York yesterday, Prohibition Commissioner Haynes described plans for big shakeup of his forces. All agents are to be discharged, but some will be reappointed. The entire dry organization will be redistributed in unfamiliar territory.

The Association Against the Prohibition Amendment has addressed a letter to Comptroller General McCarl requesting him to withhold the salary of Commissioner Haynes until the treasury has recovered about $11,250 paid to Miss Georgia Hopeley.

The association charged that Miss Hopeley, who recently resigned, had been employed as a prohibition officer, but had been assigned to touring the country lecturing on prohibition.

Three Ships Return Three rum ships driven off New England's rum row by the recent dry blockade have returned with fresh supplies, and four destroyers supplemented by a flotilla of smaller craft have swung into action. The latest arrivals are far at sea off the north shore of Massachusetts, considerable distance from the summer White House.

Today's Toronto Globe says that rum runners operating out of Port Colborne on Lake Ontario, will be fired on by American rum chasers if they attempt to escape into American waters.

Harry Smith, collector of customs of the Port of Buffalo, the Globe says, issued the warning after conferring with officials in Toronto.

Dixon Orchestra Man Injured in Accident

Charles Darby, orchestra leader, met with a painful accident Thursday evening at Starved Rock state park, where he appeared with his company of musicians. After the drive from Dixon to the park, some of the orchestra members decided to have a dip in the pool before the program began.

In diving from a spring board, the leader of the orchestra struck the bottom of the cement tank on the top of his head, but was fortunate in not having been rendered unconscious and possibly drowned.

Former Dixon Druggist Painfully Hurt Tuesday

Morrison—H. M. Donkey, formerly of Dixon, who on Tuesday cut his forearm so that four stitches were required, was not incapacitated for work, and has been at the store each day. ## ILLINOIS CENTRAL R. ASKS PERMIT TO ABANDON TRAINS

Two Trains Operating Through Dixon Are Among "Losers."

Springfield, Ill., July 18—(AP)—Requests for permission to abandon eighteen trains in Illinois, Wisconsin and Indiana, because of the increasing competition offered by privately owned automobile and motor buses were filed with the Illinois Commerce Commission by the Illinois Central Railroad today. The proposed changes if authorized will affect six divisions of the road, the Decatur-Champaign division being the hardest hit.

On this division it is proposed that four trains be removed from the schedule and their places taken by adding a passenger car and a baggage car to regular freight trains. The road proposes to abandon trains 705, 702, 706 and 707 between these points and make accommodation trains of trains 793 and 794.

Between Bloomington and Clinton the road would abandon the through service now offered by trains 131 and 132 and would stop 131 at Bloomington and start 132 from Bloomington.

(Editor's Note—Trains No. 131 and 132 run through Dixon, the former, south bound, being due in Dixon at 4:50 p. m. daily except Sunday; and No. 132, north bound, being due at 9:53 a. m., daily except Sunday.)

Abandon Dixon Trains Between Chicago and Rockford the Illinois Central proposes to abandon trains 35 and 36 and adjust the local stops of trains 16, 28 and 29 to take care of the local stops made by the trains withdrawn. Trains 329 and 330, Freeport to Dodgeville, Wisconsin, would be taken over by 315 and 316, which would remain for the present. Trains 119 and 124 would be removed from the Freeport to Clinton service and 823 and 824 would no longer connect for Leroy and West Lebanon, Indiana.

(Editor's Note—Two of the above trains which it is proposed to abandon, make scheduled stops in Dixon. 119, south bound, now is due in Dixon at 7:20 a. m., daily except Sunday; and 124, north bound, is due in Dixon at 8:58 p. m., daily except Sunday.)

Hearings in Six Counties. Trains—125 and 126, Decatur to Pana, and 101 and 104, Decatur to Centralia, would be taken from the schedules. No date for the hearings, which will be held in six different counties, has as yet been set.

Other applications today included those of the Champaign & Urbana Water Co., for permission to issue $225,000 in capital stock and of the Illinois Power & Light Corporation for permission to purchase the electric utility properties of the Leroy Electric Co., in Downs, Leroy, Cooksville, Colfax, Gillum and Elmhurst. The same corporation in another petition sought permission to purchase the property of the Mackinaw Electric Light Company.

NEW EVIDENCE IN SCOTT CASE IS NOW CLAIMED

Three Witnesses Said to Have Been Located Now

Chicago, July 18—(AP)—Russell Scott, erstwhile Canadian financier, counting the hours of the week of life given him in the county jail death cell, has been buoyed up in his hope of ultimately escaping the gallows by a development as strange as the message which brought him a reprieve.

This was the finding of three new purported witnesses, two here and one in Detroit, declaring the murder of Joseph Mauer, drug clerk for which Scott was condemned to die, was not in a holdup, but in a quarrel over bootleg whiskey, and that Robert Scott, his brother, actually fired the shot.

The Chicagoans are women whose names were not given Scott's attorneys. The Detroit is James M. Ball, a telephone operator, who said he saw the killing done by Robert.

Ball's story was branded as a "pure fake" by George E. Gorman, assistant prosecutor, who procured Scott's conviction. He also termed "a bit of strategy" the telegram signed Robert Scott, sent to Governor Len.

Receipt of this telegram caused Governor Small to grant Scott a reprieve of one week, six hours before the time set for his hanging.

State Motorcycle Cop Kenneth Church Hurt

Butter Market

By Associated Press Leased Wire
Chicago, July 18.—(AP)—The butter markets for the week opened firm with buyers showing more interest than has been noticed for some time past. As a result of this increased demand, the markets were in the seller's favor throughout most of the week with prices advancing from half to one cent.

The increased activity and firmer feeling became evident on eastern markets late in the preceding week, where storage stocks were comparatively light as compared with Chicago holdings.

Eastern operators who, throughout most of the month of June, followed a conservative policy relative to storing of butter, evidently arrived at the conclusion that prices during July would not permit the purchase of butter for storage purposes at much lower prices. Although still operating cautiously, there was a noticeable improvement in the demand and price advances were registered on all eastern markets early in the week.

At Chicago, the firmness and price advances on top scores became manifested later in the week. Trading at the Chicago market centered mostly on the medium and lower scores with dealers enjoying a good business on these grades. Dealers were having no difficulty in moving goods at quotations and many buyers were willing to pay price premiums for desirable long lines, as supplies of these grades were limited.

During the week under review, receipts were somewhat lighter on the four markets. Chicago's receipts showed a considerable shrink while receipts at eastern markets averaged about the same as for the week previous.

HOMI—
There lies a little city in the hills;
White are its roofs, dim is each dwelling's door
And peace with perfect rest its bosom fills.

There the pure mist, the pity of the sea,
Comes as a white, soft hand, and reaches o'er

Unstirred and calm, amid our shifting years,
Lo! where it lies, far from the clash and roar,

With quite distant blurred, as if thru tears,
O heart that prayest so for God
to send

Some loving messenger to go before
And lead the way to where thy longings end,

Be sure, be very sure, that soon will come
His kindly angel, and thru that still door

into the infinite love will lead three home.

BY CYNTHIA GREY—

A woman who has won much fame as an artist, was talking to me about her baby girl, now less than a year old.

"I hope," said this woman who is acknowledged by the world to be one of its most brilliant ones, "that my daughter is beautiful but dumb. If I ever catch her showing any tendency toward developing a brain, I'll send her some place where she will get over it before it proves to be her ruin."

This woman is one of the most envied of her sex. She has had triumphs beyond what most of us even aspire to gain. She undoubtedly possesses a six-cylinder brain. But she has never been a "knockout" with men. And she really believes it is on account of her brains.

She has told me repeatedly she would give up everything she has accomplished if she could just be a glorious, perfect blonde. Down in her soul she really yearns to be a Cleopatra or a Cleopatra. And she believes that beauty is the main essential for such a career.

But it doesn't follow that every beautiful woman wants to be a man killer. If you have a face that makes men swarm about you like flies around molasses, it is probable that a conquest more or less isn't going to be any great thrill in your life.

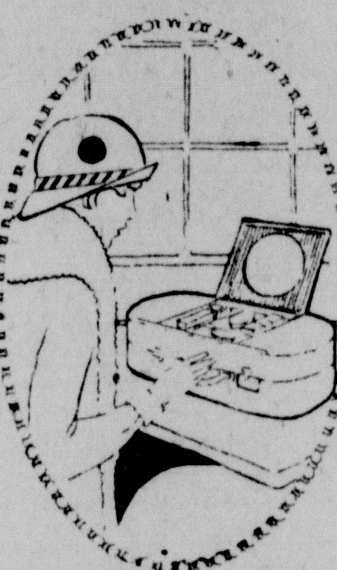

The woman who is as beautiful as a goddess, but has no talents, would probably believe that the woman who could paint a great picture or do some creative work had very much greater gifts from Providence than she.

We all prize the things we don't have. We underestimate the struggle

ETHEL: The Stenog's Day Off

CONVENIENT

when you have satisfied your thirst, it doesn't add to your satisfaction to know that there is a large quantity around that you can't use.

You may be surrounded by all the authors in the world, but after all you need only one who really loves you to make you happy, and there is no value in quantity if you haven't the one who is really for you.

The woman who is what we call commonplace, has just as much chance for romance and happiness as the woman who is superlatively beautiful or superlatively clever. She probably gets more all-around happiness out of life by keeping to the even tenor of things instead of hitting the high spots.

It isn't just beauty or just brains or just money or any particular quality that makes you happy or successful. Nothing could bring less happiness than the combination of beauty and dumbness, even if it were possible to have beauty without some intelligence.

All we can do is just take the talents we have and do the best we can with them. The test of success is not whether you get what the world prizes but whether you get what you actually want. And we only judge our own achievements. We don't know about the other fellow.

"A BIRD IN THE HAND IS WORTH TWO IN THE BUSH."

It all depends upon the bird.

The world owes some of its richest blessings to the men who sacrificed the bird they held in their hand for the better birds in the bush.

Washington was the richest man in America at the time of the Revolution. Prudence would have kept him out of the war and saved his property. The love of liberty drove him to high adventure in which he staked his fortune and his life of the outcome of the fight for freedom. When he won, we all won.

Moses could have lived in Pharaoh's court in safety, but he preferred hardship with his own people to luxury with a loss of honor and self-respect. In his daring the world was profited.

Cyrus McCormick was growing as much grain as any man in his own country but he dreamed of a better way to reap it and gave fifteen years to his dream. Today we are all better fed because of his persistent dreaming.

The Pilgrim Fathers could have made a good living in England or in Holland but their dream of freedom drove them to America and hardships. In their adventure was laid the foundation of the world's greatest republic.

Jesus of Nazareth could have compromised with Rome, but he dreamed of a world redeemed from poverty, injustice and slavery and died for that dream. And his ideas persist.

Sometimes the bird we hold in our hand robs us of wonderful birds in the bush that we might possess. It is an old fallacy that the certain is preferable to the possible.

GRAIN GAMBLERS.

Gamblers in grain are getting into close quarters.

President Coolidge and Secretaries Hoover and Jardine of the departments of the interior and agriculture have agreed that it is impossible for the normal law of supply and demand to operate on the grain exchange.

Notice has been served upon officials of the Chicago board of trade that steps must be taken to prevent such trading as has been disclosed by government investigation, says a news report. Otherwise, the notice is said to have stated bluntly, radical legislation may be expected in the next session of congress.

The grain gamblers have had fair notice. There have been bills in the Illinois general assembly and in congress, directed against them. Promises to clean up are said to have been made repeatedly. Whether these were promises only or whether the cleansing process lasted only until the storm was over does not make much difference. It appears that the conditions complained of are recurring.

Government investigation is said to have disclosed "bear" trading of alarming proportions, sufficient to upset for long periods the normal law of supply and demand.

PLAYGROUNDS.

In one mid-western city the authorities need $250,000 at once to enlarge city playground facilities. But they hesitate to ask it because the city's expenses are high already, and they do want to economize.

But economizing at the expense of playgrounds isn't the wisest sort of economy, by a long shot.

First of all, children have a right to play somewhere. We've built huge cities and cut thousands of youngsters off from the open fields and lanes and streams that all children used to know, and it's up to us to give them something else.

Besides, there are plenty of statistics to show that playgrounds help to reduce juvenile delinquency. A city that installs plenty of them will receive dividends later in decreased lawlessness—and the Lord knows all of our cities could stand a change like that!

THE OIL LEASES.

Senator Thomas J. Walsh is freely predicting that the higher courts will reverse Federal Judge Kennedy's ruling in the Teapot Dome case and will decide it in favor of the government.

He declares the case is parallel to the Elk Hills case, which the government won, and that both should be decided the same way.

He may or may not be right in his prediction. But here's a thing to keep in mind:

Both of these cases will come up for review by higher courts, neither case can be said to have been settled yet. So it might be well to reserve all comment about the "victory" of one side or the "exonerated" of another until the two decisions have been passed on finally.

ABNORMAL.

A report just made in New York says that more than three-fourths of the prisoners in thirty-four jails and penitentiaries in that state are mentally or nervously abnormal.

The proper course of action, in view of that statement, doesn't suggest itself offhand. But the report provided plenty of food for thought.

And it also provides something of an answer for those who insist that the only way to stop crime is to make punishment more dreadful.

TOM SIMS SAYS

What spoils a good party quicker than having the chaperone drink up all the liquor.

If all the arguments in the world were placed end to end they wouldn't reach any conclusion.

Nothing seems to take a man off his feet as fast as a good porch swing.

Many a good flyver gets cussed by someone who doesn't understand it. Same is true of people.

If you want to learn to high dive, fall in love first, so you won't care what happens.

BY CHESTER H. ROWELL.

The spectacle is predicted in the next Congress of the Democrats out-Melloning Mellon. Instead of cutting the maximum surtax to 25 per cent, as Mellon proposes, some of the Democratic leaders are talking of half that.

The argument, according to cynical Washington correspondents, who need see any but vote-getting motives, is that last year the Democrats tried the experiment of joining with the insurgents, on the supposition that it was popular to lower the taxes on small incomes and keep them up on large ones.

But, from the election, they concluded that there was something untoward about their party, and inferred that it must be this. So now they may try the reverse policy to see if that is any more popular.

How would it be for somebody to consider, not popularity, but right? Fortunately, in financial matters the right policy eventually becomes the popular one.

It vindicates itself by its practical operation. Taxes may be too low, as well as too high. Results tell.

The worst way to adjust taxes is to try either to "clinch the rich" or to bluff the poor.

If you really succeed in clinching the rich, you usually injure the poor, by lowering wages, raising prices and increasing unemployment.

More often you do not succeed, but merely bluff the poor into thinking that you have done so. The very tax that seems to favor the poor is likely to be the one which they pay themselves, most burdensomely.

THE GREAT ADVANCE OF MEDICAL SCIENCE

Step by step, science is approaching the point when there will be nothing left to die of except violence or old age.

From two sources, one in Canada and one in France, neither of them quick, come reports of apparently promising progress toward a specific cure for tuberculosis.

This news, it is fair to add, is of no present practical interest to anyone now afflicted.

Neither treatment, if successful, will be available in time to be of use to anyone who is beyond recovery by present hygienic methods, or to make it safe for any one who needs the treatment to delay taking it in the hope of something more specific.

But if some specific, for cure or immunity, is developed, one of the major plagues of mankind will be gone.

There is far to go; but consider the progress that has been made, since medicine became partly scientific, within the last 50 years.

The acute infectious diseases are some of them mastered, and the rest on the way to mastery.

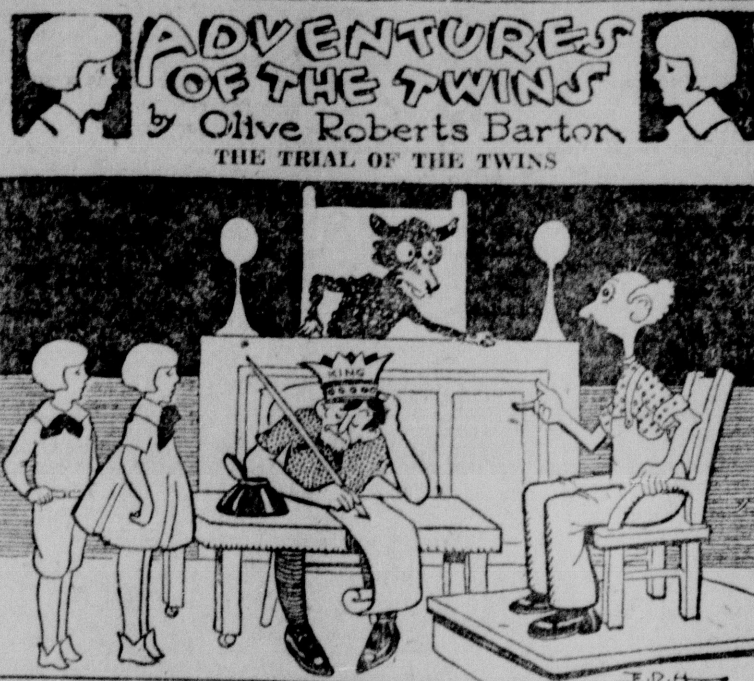

Tuberculosis is already largely curable, without a specific remedy, and that is almost in sight.

Cancer is still a puzzle, but already there is knowledge enough to save multitudes of sufferers, if they will take advantage early enough (with the emphasis on the "early") of that knowledge.

Diabetes is not cured, but controlled, so that it can be lived with. "Bright's disease" is harder, but something can be done even with that.

"Heart disease" covers a large range of conditions, many of which can be prevented.

There is much still to do, but if this generation does as well as the last, the normal working life of our grandchildren should be 80 years.

The first witness was the Candle Stick Maker.

"My My" thought the Twins. "Here we come to the Land of Wonders to help for the Fairy Queen's lost honeybees, and now we are to be tried for something we know nothing about."

"Are you ready?" asked the Black Sheep when everybody had gathered around and twelve jurors had been chosen.

"What are we to do?" asked the jury.

"Try to remember your manners, that's all," said the Black Sheep, "and try to stay awake. Snoring always makes me lose my temper. Besides it keeps me awake myself and I may want to take a nap. Call the first witness, please."

The first witness was the Candle Stick Maker.

"State what you know of the case," said the Black Sheep, rapping loudly for order.

"The only case I know about is a case of tallow for making candles," said the Candle Stick Maker promptly.

The Black Sheep shivered. One word he could not bear mentioned was "tallow."

"The witness must be a friend of the prisoners," he cried. "He's excused. Call the next person, please."

The next person was the Drum Major.

"State what you know of the case," said the Black Sheep sharply.

"The only case I know anything about is a case of sheep skins to stretch over my drums when I break them," said the Drum Major.

The Black Sheep shivered harder than ever. To speak of sheep-skins worse than talking of tallow.

THE FANGLE

LETTER FROM LESLIE PRESCOTT TO THE LITTLE MARQUISE—CONTINUED

Hardly had Melville Sartoris settled his party at a rhapsodic table when with a murmured excuse he left us and I saw him speaking to the orchestra leader. When he returned to the table he said:

"The next dance after this, Mrs. Prescott, will be a tango, and I give you fair warning that, probably before we finish we will be doing exhibition dancing. I learned the tango in Argentina, and I have never known any woman outside of that country who can dance it with the sensuous grace and expert effectiveness that you have. We will probably be the observed of all observers."

"Do you hear that, Jack?" I said gaily. "I think I'd better warn you that if we ever lose our money, it is very probable that Mr. Sartoris and I will take up hall-room dancing."

"Go ahead, Leslie," said Jack, "and strut your stuff, for by the time we have lost our money, you'll probably be a fat old woman with three or four more babies, and have forgotten that you were ever a delicate willow-wisp dancing about to the admiration of all beholders."

"Syd," I pleaded, "can't you say something that will keep me from contemplating such a fate as my husband predicts for me?"

"I don't think it is an untoward fate, Leslie, said Syd. "The plump, adored mother of a large family of children is to me the most beautiful example of womanhood. The girl who dances the tango is nothing more than a promise that may never be fulfilled. The mother with one child upon her lap, one standing behind her chair, and two or three looting at her feet is the consummation of woman's destiny."

"Hear! Hear!" said Jack. "Do you know, Syd, that you're just on the verge of getting married?"

"Nonsense, old chap, I'll never

"Is everybody here a friend of the prisoners?" demanded the Black Sheep crossly. "The witness is excused."

"We are," shouted the Scare-Crow and the Mous and the Saw-Horse and the Match Seller and everybody in the Land of Wonders.

All except the May Queen—I mean the July Queen—who went on rocking harder than ever.

"I'm not particularly," said she. "I'd like to see this thing out. Are they or are they not guilty of—of—of—so, king, what was the trial about?"

The July King scratched his head. "I'll be boiled if I know," he said. "It was something or other."

Nobody remembered what the trial was about so the Twins were found "not guilty" and allowed to go free. "Now for the May Pole dance," said the May Queen—I mean the July Queen. "Find your partners, everybody. King, call the figures. Oranges step to the right, lavender to the left, pink and blues fall in between."

But when the Twins looked at the king, he was sound asleep. The next thing they knew the queen was asleep, too, her waterfall as crooked as a pretzel. One by one the others began to yawn and then to stretch and finally they were all asleep except Nancy and Nick themselves. Even the friendly lion was asleep, his nose resting peacefully on his paws.

"Come along, Nancy," said Nick. "This is no way to treat company. We'd better be going."

merry."

"Well I'll tell the world you've got all the symptoms, dear boy. When a man gets to the point where he is perfectly willing to keep the home fires burning for an over-plump wife and five or six children, you can make up your mind that he's contemplating marriage and pretty lonely, eh, Sartoris?"

"I have never felt, Mr. Prescott, that my loneliness could be dissipated by a large family. True, I might have had such dreams in my youth, but even at that time I was a little doubtful, you know."

The music began, Melville Sartoris held out his arms. I glided into them, and we began to dance.

As he had predicted, we were entirely alone on the floor, and when I was conscious of anything except the rhythm and the poetry of the dance, I heard a whisper close to my ears.

"Almost thou persuadest me to believe."

OLD BOX ARTISTS
IN LIMELIGHT IN THE GAMES YESTERDAYAthletis, With Jack Quinn in the Box, Back in
First Place

New York, July 18—(AP)—Pitchers of the past, stirred by the sensational races in the major baseball league, attained exceptional form in the battles of yesterday.

Babe Adams, hero of Pittsburgh's world series conquest in 1909, ventured out to the hill in the ninth inning at Boston and held the Braves hitless while his Pirate mates routed the enemy after being two runs behind. The 7-3 victory brought Pittsburgh to the top of the standing once again, as the New York Giants, occupants of the top rung for a day, fell before the once mighty arm of "Duster" Mails at the Polo Grounds, 6-1.

The Cardinals, using Mails to defraud the opposition, drove out 12 ruffians. Huffy returning from Syracuse in time to substitute for the injured Blades and accounting for four hits. Terry made three of the Giants blows and Meusel one.

Old Jack Wins Again
Meanwhile it was veterans day in the American League as well. Old Jack Quinn, Yankee and Red Sox discard, allowing three safeties in 7 innings at Philadelphia and giving the Athletics a gain of one full game over the Champion Senators, who lost to George Dauss at Detroit.

All told, Chicago gathered four hits from the offerings of the Philadelphia moundsmen then dropped the battle, 8-1. It was the seventh straight conquest for the Athletics.

Dauss' margin over the Senators was 6-3, Zachary and Marberry proving the victims.

White Sox Down a Peg
The White Sox defeat permitted Vander and Davis to pitch George Siler's Browns into third place in the American League, 9-3, while Hoyt became his old self and gave the struggling Yankees a victory over Cleveland, 5-1. Earl Combs returned to the Yankee lineup and sent forth four hits.

Rube Benton of Cincinnati, another of the old timers, shut out Brooklyn at Ebbets Field, 4-0, aided by brilliant hitting on the part of Walter Holke and Eddie Rousch. Jim Caveney accepted 16 of 17 chances during the game.

Maranville's Cubs became vicious and downed the slugging Phillies, 7-5, despite the fact that Fletcher used two full teams in an effort to change the verdict.

REVIVED
There are all sorts of ways of putting things, and some sound much better than others. For example, there is the case of the man of whom Lord Coleridge used to tell, whose father was hanged for highway robbery. Some one asked him how his father died.

"Sir," said he, "he fell from a scaffolding outside Newgate while he was talking to a clergyman."

Speaker and Cobb, Veterans, in Hard Contest

Chicago, July 18.—(AP)—History is repeating itself today in the dash for the 1925 American League batting championship.

Back in 1914, Tris Speaker, gray-thatched leader of Cleveland, playing his first season with the Indians, beat out Ty Cobb after the Detroit star had held the honors for nine consecutive years. Speaker finished the season with .386; Cobb batted .371.

Today, these famous rivals are battling for the lead with Speaker gaining on every trip to the plate. Cobb is batting .406; Speaker .401. Harry Rice of St. Louis is third with .399. Harry Heilmann of Detroit fourth with .393 and George Eisher, pilot of the Browns, fifth with .369. The figures include games of Wednesday.

Ken Williams of St. Louis is threatening to chase Babe Ruth out of the picture as leading home run hitter. He has connected with 22, passing Meusel of the Yankees of the home run honors of the league. The two have the race sewed up between them as there is no one near either.

Johnny Mostil of the White Sox added three more stolen bases to his string and is showing the way with twenty-nine, without a dangerous competitor in sight.

Other leading batters for 20 or more games:

Wingo, Detroit .368; Combs, New York .361; Cochrane, Philadelphia .361; Hale, Philadelphia .360; Fothergill, Detroit .360.

Rogers Hornsby, back in the game after an injury, did not lose his eye-sight while on the bench. In fact the National League batting champion is as dangerous as ever, remaining at the top with an average of .427. He has a 34 point margin over Wilson of the Phillies, who is second with .393.

Hornsby lifted one over the fence during the week, giving him a total of 23 homers, two more than Harriet of the Cubs.

Hornsby has considerable edge in total bases. By cracking out 114 hits the youthful pilot of the Cardinals has rung up 214 bases. In addition to his home runs, Hornsby has made twenty-one doubles and five triples.

Max Carey of the Pirates broke the tie shared with Sparky Adams of the Cubs for the base stealing laurels. Carey went into the lead with nineteen while Sparky is trailing with 17.

Other leading batters: Stock, of Brooklyn .390; Fournier, Brooklyn .383; Bottomley, St. Louis .377; Frisch, New York .374; Wrightstone, Philadelphia .369; Barnhart, Pittsburgh .368; Bancroft, Boston .368; Felix, Boston .360.

Terry, Giants first baseman, collected three of the four hits off "Duster" Mails, Cardinal flinger. Two of the blows were doubles.

Frankie Frisch, star second sacker of the Giants, failed to hit Mails after hitting safely in 19 consecutive games.

Caveney, Reds' shortstop, participated in three double plays, being on the starting end twice and in the middle of the third.

Johnny Mostil of the White Sox attempted to make a shoestring catch of a short fly by Pinch Hitter French but the ball got away from him for a double. On the next play Kamm and Faber got their signals crossed on a bunt. The error upset Faber and paved the way for six runs.

LaMar, former American Association star, drove out four hits in five times at bat. His work with the stick, along with Simmons, Miller and Hale, is a big factor in the Athletics drive for the pennant.

Cuyler, former Southern Association star, got three hits, one of which was a double.

Earl Combs celebrated his return to the Yankee line by smashing out four hits in five times at bat and scoring three runs. Combs had been out of the game because of illness.

Walter Johnson, speed ball pitching star of the world's champion Senators, has staked out an eight and a half acre claim near Battery Park, Maryland for a chicken farm, when he decides to give up baseball. The land is one of the show places in that part of the state and has sufficient orchard and tillable land to give the pitcher plenty of exercise.

Mandell Given Shade
in Very Close Battle

Chicago, July 18.—(AP)—The lightweight title aspirations of Sammy Mandell of Rockford, Illinois, were not much advanced in his ten round engagement with Solly Seaman of New York last night at East Chicago.

A majority of ringside newspaper experts gave Mandell a shade decision, but the bout was so close that others considered Seaman the victor. The Rockford youth showed superior speed, but Seaman fought furiously and once drove his opponent to the ropes under a heavy body attack.

Mandell weighed 134 3/4 and Seaman 132 1/2.

In another 10 round bout, Pal Moore, Memphis bantamweight, won from Harold Smith, Chicago.

FABLES ON HEALTH

If one has tuberculosis it is exceedingly important that he knows it. Because the only way to cure tuberculosis is to start before the lungs are wasted away.

The best method of determining if one is affected is to have a reputable physician make a thorough examination. Some folks have their lungs examined every year, and it is a good plan.

However, there are symptoms which most any one should be able to detect. These are: Loss of weight, loss of strength, lack of energy and endurance, feeling tired and run down, especially in the afternoon or evening, poor appetite, indigestion, slight temperature and a cough.

The cough is not always present. But every cough lasting three weeks or more is suspicious. Night sweats are almost sure signs. Pleurisy—a sharp pain in the chest, made worse on deep breathing or on coughing, and lasting an hour or more—is nearly always due to tuberculosis.

Failure to recover from grippe, pneumonia, malaria and other diseases rapidly as should be expected, is a bad sign.

Correct Clothes To Meet The Obligation Of Every Season

Keeping A Cool Head

Swimming used to have no fashions to write about, but there were traditional unwritten fashions about swimming. One of them was that you should be conspicuously well-turned-out, but not be turned out conspicuously. Darkish colors, unobtrusive trimmings and—rarest of all, a fit—were supposed to mark the get-up of the honest-to-goodness swimmer, as distinguished from the mere toe-wetter or beach Apollo. Other days—other ways! In 1925, the boldest of colors are seen in the swimming suit. Indeed, seemingly they cannot be vivid enough. This is traceable to the veritable furor for color that has gripped the young men of America and driven them to try outdo one another in the brilliancy of their suits for the dip. Now, color, like lending money, proposing to a girl or ordering chicken croquettes at a strange restaurant, is a thing to be indulged in with discretion.

The well-set-up youngster in his teens or twenties may well go in for violently cross-barred swimming shirts, and get away with it. However, put this same loud style upon an older, who has reached the age when his hairline recedes and his waistline advances, and the effect is downright ridiculous. He is dressing out of his years. The observer will probably exclaim, "some class," but with the el silent. Therefore, go the limit, if you like, but always within the limits of appropriateness and common sense.

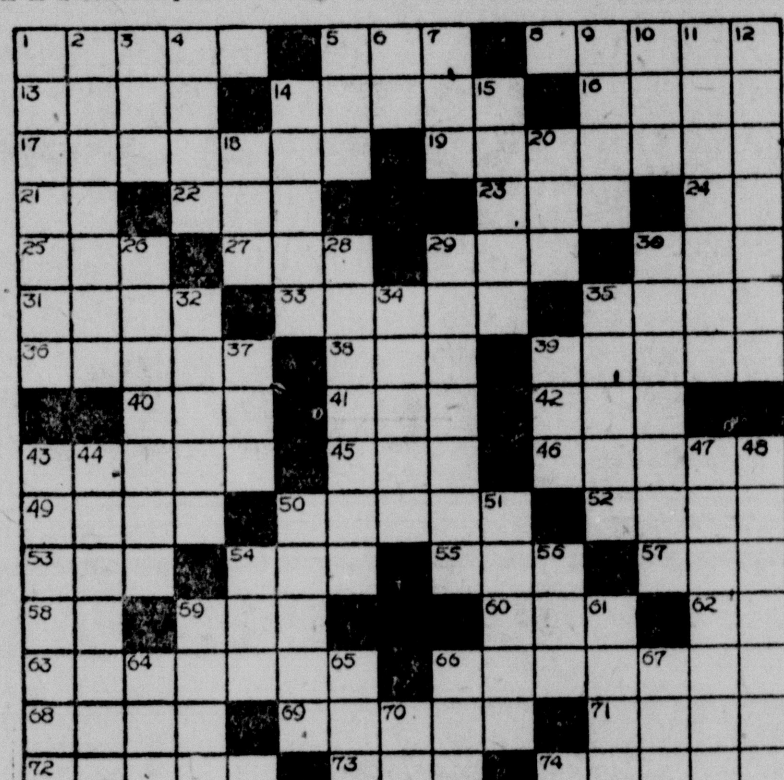

Not every swimmer chooses to wear a skull cap. Most men like the freedom of their heads exposed to wind and wave. However, some swimmers like a cap to keep from wetting the hair or to prevent sunburn from blistering the unthatched dome. Others, wear a cap to break the impact of cleaving the water in diving.

Swimmer's skull-caps, as shown here, are made of rubber, thin, almost transparent oiled silk or heavy worsted in plain colors or vivid stripes. These, sometimes, match the cross-bars upon the swimming shirt. Beach sandals, like swimming caps, are not in general use, but they are very serviceable in preventing bruises and cuts from sharp stones and broken shells. Usually, they are made of stout waterproof white canvas, lacing with tapes and being cut low or high.

The RED RAIN MYSTERY

BEGIN HERE TODAY

SAMUEL HONEYBUN, retired English countryman, finds his rain gauge filled with blood on the morning of the murder of—SIR FRANCIS LATROPE. Margaret, daughter of Sir Francis, had married—SIR GUY LATROPE against her father's wish. Sir Guy is suspected of the murder by—

INSPECTOR ROAKE of Scotland Yard, and he goes into hiding at the Latrope home. But Adrian Klyne, private detective, employed by Margaret, believes there's something in the "Red Rain Mystery," especially after blood had been found in three gauges on three different occasions. He is watching—ADELA LARKIN, daughter of Rev. Sennius Larkin.

KLYNE disguised as Lord Bulpeter, arranged to visit the Grange with Inspector Roake on the pretext of conferring with Margaret.

NOW GO ON WITH THE STORY

THE curiously assorted couple reached the Grange without the exchange of a single word. Roake thought it strange that no question was put to him as to the watching of the Grange by the police, but none such was forthcoming. Lord Bulpeter left it to be inferred that he was not interested in that aspect of the case—that he was only paying a "duty" call of condolence on the daughter of an old schoolfellow.

As they passed up the avenue some lurking shadows materialized out of the shrubberies, but at a word from the Inspector they vanished. At the front door the white-haired butler was standing in a listening attitude. He eyed the police-officer in the half light with signs of hostility.

"That you, Jevons?" said Roake. "Is Miss Latrope at home? This is Lord Bulpeter, an old friend of her father. His lordship desires to condole with her on her recent bereavement."

"Got your company manners on tonight," the old servant rejoined dourly. "Miss Margaret ain't in. That's why I'm standing here listening. I want to call her to coffee with her aunt and I couldn't find her in the house. Hark to that!"

"That" was the yapping bark of a small dog of the "toy" species. The animal seemed to be in trouble.

"Has Miss Latrope got a dog?" This was Lord Bulpeter.

"Yes, sir—I beg pardon, my lord. A Yorkshire terrier, very much attached to her."

Roake did not intend to leave the inquiry to his companion, nobleman though he was.

"Was the barking of the dog what made you come to the front door to listen?" he demanded with a return to his natural truculence.

"It was something much more serious," replied the butler in the tone of one who could take a unfold but wasn't going to.

Lord Bulpeter took up the running and Roake experienced a pang of jealousy at the courteous tenderness in his voice. It did not sound like the voice that had accused him of "making faces."

"Look here, Jevons," said his lordship. "I have got about twenty old servants at Bulpeter Castle, and I respect the breed. Naturally you don't want to talk to a policeman who is having your master's house watched. But perhaps you will not mind answering the same question if I put it instead of Inspector Roake?"

"I was in my pantry, my lord," Jevons replied readily enough. "And I thought I heard a cry down to wards the road. I came out to hear if it was repeated. It was like Miss Margaret's voice."

"Humph," growled Lord Bulpeter. "Has Miss Margaret got any enemies?"

"Not that I'm aware of, my lord, besides the police," replied Jevons. "They seem to have a down on her."

French Casualties from Riff War Given as 4148. Paris, July 17.—(AP)—Total French casualties so far in the Moroccan war with Abd-el-Krim's Riffians are given by the Petit Journal in a Fez dispatch as 5148. Of these 707 were killed, 2775 wounded and 666 missing.

The bride is the oldest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George Hawbecker and has lived in this community all her life. The groom is formerly from Pennsylvania and is clerk in the Ives Drug store.

The third annual Institute under the Woman's Foreign Missionary society of the Methodist Episcopal church of Joliet-Dixon district of Rock River Conference closed its session here Sunday evening. This was the best meeting of the three years. One missionary who has been attending throughout the Rock River conference said that it was the most spiritual Institute she has ever attended.

Rev. Luther of Rochelle was present and assisted in the opening exercises several times. Friday afternoon the Institute sent greetings to Dr. Anna Gloss a DeKalb a return missionary, and also to Mrs. T. K. Gale who is in the Wesley Hospital in Chicago with a broken hip. During the entire session Mrs. Marquis and Miss Ruth E. Caughey were very helpful with their vocal duets and solos. Saturday night owing to the intense heat the meeting was held out under the trees which to the minds of many who attended all of the sessions was the best meeting of all. It was missionary night. Miss Alva Hunt gave a short but most interesting talk and had with her many pictures which she had taken while in India, which proved very interesting. Mrs. Nicholas, a missionary from China, gave the next address. Mrs. Nicholas is one of the speakers who never fails to entertain her hearers, and her stories concerning China were more than pleasing. Following this was Dr. Howard Musser, the Jungle Man from India. His talk was along the line of the wild animals of India. Dr. Musser was the main speaker of the Institute having talked every afternoon and three times Sunday. Mrs. Glenn Craddock of Sterling, the president, is entitled to much credit for the best Institute held here. She has been untiring in her efforts to secure the best talent and was most faithful during the sessions. The Institute was larger than any other year there being over two hundred registered. All bills were paid in full and the ladies, with the president are making plans for the Institute next year.

There will be no services in the Methodist church next Sunday except Sunday school at 9:30. The sacred concert in the afternoon at the camp grounds and in the evening Dr. Wray O'Neal of Chicago will deliver his lecture "Seers of Visions." Rev. O'Neal is a former Methodist pastor at this place, and his many friends will want to hear him in his master lecture.

The swimming pool will be opened to the public Monday afternoon at 1:30 and will remain open the rest of the season. Last Monday from 1:30 to 5:30 there were about 125 in the pool, showing how popular it is during the warm weather.

The Epworth League Institute now in session at the camp grounds is enjoying one of the best programs ever put on at an Epworth Institute. Rev. Fred W. Ingvalstad of Sterling gave a splendid address Tuesday night, as did Rev. Howard P. Young of Woodward, Iowa, who last night gave an address on "The Youth of Today."

The first night meeting found an orchestra of several pieces ready for work. The singing under the direction of Rev. Stiller is most inspiring. Tuesday night, Miss Lorane Crum sang a duet and last night Rev. Stiller sang a solo, both of which were most graciously received. Sunday afternoon at 3 p. m. a sacred concert of orchestra music and singing, will be the main feature. Owing to the absence of Mrs. T. W. Gale, Miss Bertha Bennett of Dixon was elected Dean of Women. Rev. A. S. Moore of Dixon is Dean.

Mr. and Mrs. Louis Bucher and family expect to go to White Rock near Rochelle today for a visit at the home of her parents.

Mrs. Mary Trottnow entertained Sunday: Mr. and Mrs. Earl Trottnow and Mrs. Adkins of Aurora, Miss Lucy Lauppe of West Chicago and Mrs. Miss Gandy of Maple Park.

Mrs. Daniel Worley and daughter Miss Mary were in Ashton Saturday to attend the funeral of Charles Grove.

C. R. Hunt went to Springfield today for a visit at the home of his cousin.

Oregon Ladies Held ... Class Reunion 13th
